GRATITUDE REPORT
2019

Reannin made two phone calls.

One to Planned Parenthood and one to Women's Care Center.
Planned Parenthood told her they could see her next week.
Women's Care Center told her we could see her right now.

"If I hadn't gotten an appointment at Women's Care Center first, I would have gone right to Planned Parenthood and I probably would have aborted."

~ Reannin, mother of baby Agnes (shown)

Baby Agnes

We live in increasingly challenging and difficult times.

You see the incredible sadness coming out of New York, Virginia, Illinois, and many other states that are making abortion more available than ever before...even up to, and after the moment of birth. It's like nothing we've ever seen before. It's scary. It's sad.

But, at Women's Care Center, you help us stay out of politics and instead double down on what works. Because of donors like you, we focus with great love on the next woman who walks through our door. Because of you, we double down on love.

In communities with Women's Care Center, life is winning.

Saving more babies than ever before.

Thanks to you!

Our clients feel it. They feel your love.

Over 2,000 times a year, a young woman walks into our center in Duluth. A woman who, with just a little bit of hope and support, changes her mind and chooses life. A woman who is supported through pregnancy and beyond, and then builds a nurturing family or places her baby for adoption.

And it is one person — like you — who makes this possible.

1 in 5 babies born in Duluth
now start with Women's Care Center.

It is no wonder that so many babies are being saved.

And this would not happen without you.

KAHRI'S STORY

"I was working 60-70 hours a week.
I wanted to get an abortion.

I've always been pro-choice. But seeing everything at Women's Care Center with this pregnancy completely changed my perspective.

In the ultrasound, I got to see my baby!

After that, whenever
I felt weak and thought
about abortion,
I just kept pulling out
that ultrasound picture.

That picture reminded me, this baby is here.
She's real. Here's her little body. Here's her heartbeat.

Kahri's baby Lexzie

This baby, Lexzie, is my angel, because she saved me. She saved my family life.
I still work hard to provide for my kids,
but now I know that work is not everything.

Every single day, I gather them together and tell my kids,
'you are smart, you are strong, you are beautiful, and you are loved.' That's the kind of unconditional love I want them to grow up understanding.

Now, I can't believe
I ever even thought
about abortion.
It would have ruined my life."

Your love does not stop when a baby is born.

This is when Women's Care Center's work really begins. It is important to offer women a path to becoming a successful mother. Those who visit our centers more frequently have healthier babies. They find parenting skills, adoption support and self-sufficiency. The goal is to build a family.

"Now that we're married, everything is different. Before, we were two people who loved each other and had a baby. Now, we are a family."

~ Karla, Brandon and their growing family

Parenting class at Women's Care Center

The mom in the middle shared a message for you:

"You might never know the stories of all the moms you have helped, but you need to know what a blessing you are."

Every one of us can come here and know that we will be welcomed without judgment. You'll never know the impact that your donations have had. But in Heaven, you will know. We are happy thinking that one day you will finally get to see all you've done for us."

KIARRAH'S STORY

"I was searching on-line, and Women's Care Center just popped up!" says Kiarrah.

During her ultrasound, the sound of heartbeats began to fill the room. Not one heartbeat.

But two. Kiarrah was expecting twins! She says, "I saw them, and their hearts were beating, and they were feisty!"

"I think God made me brave. He made me love these babies so I couldn't go through with the abortion. Without Women's Care Center, I probably wouldn't have them today."
