A Love Letter to YOU!

"TO THE PEOPLE WHO SUPPORT THIS PLACE: Londyn would not be here today without you, and that's the honest truth.

"How could I not have wanted her at first? What would I do without her? She is joy.

"People often say, 'this place changed my life,' but I want to say,

'No, you don't understand — this place really did change my life and my heart, and I now carry that love with me always.'

You Helped Annie Make a Heroic Choice...ADOPTION

"I flipped over the positive pregnancy test and fell on my knees bawling," says Annie. "But by my second ultrasound I thought, 'Wow! That's incredible. I'm blown away — a little person inside of me.' Then I really looked at my situation — I had difficulties with the father, no place to live, tough finances, I was so young.

"When I saw those ultrasounds and watched him moving around, I knew I loved this little boy so much. I can't give him less than he deserves."

When Annie met Ashleigh's family, she said to future big brother Kaiden, "I have your baby brother in my tummy!" Placing baby Remy was not easy, but "the strength came out of my love for him."

Ashleigh says, "We wanted an open adoption, because we want Remy to always know that he was given out of love. That he was always wanted."

"Kaiden prayed for a baby brother every single night for a year," says adoptive parents Ashleigh and Adam (shown with their family at left).

You Care for Worried Parents

"We went to another clinic but left our appointment feeling so confused, very distant with no direction," says mom Margarita. "But on the way out of the clinic, we found Women's Care Center.

"We had very little money, no insurance, and no doctor. You guided us through prenatal care and provided material assistance."

Dad Felix said, "During the ultrasounds, I became very emotional, but guarded myself to protect my wife in case anything would go wrong.

"The continuing communication with Margarita impressed me most. The texts and phone calls, asking how she was doing and if there was anything she needed. This was of great comfort to her."

You Build Strong Fathers Too

"Tobia and I started going to classes right away," says Sharese, mom of baby TJ. "We were scared. We wanted to know all about having a healthy baby. And a lot of things we were worried about, you would discuss in class and it calmed us down.

"The ultrasound was awesome — to see him moving around. I knew right away he would be a busybody, because he would not sit still! He is just a ball of joy!

"We started talking to TJ while he was still in my stomach. I'd say, 'If you're in there, go ahead and start kicking around for me!'

"He recognized his dad's voice especially. When his dad sat on one side, I could feel him swimming right over towards him."

Your Love Continues...Beyond a Choice for Life.

You Create Nurturing Moms

Natalie had a wild past and was alienated from her family. All alone and pregnant, Natalie needed a support system. She says of our center, "Oh gosh, it was like family instantly. I was finally able to cry. A little tear of fear, but also joy. I hadn't cried until I came here.

"I was joyful and scared to share the news with somebody who actually cared."

Natalie came to 21 parenting classes.

Along the way, she reconnected with her faith and her family. She says, "My mom babysits for him once a week. I have my family's blessing now, which is so nice."

Next Door Saves Lives

"I was really low when I came through the door at Women's Care Center on Farwell," said Natasha. She found us as she was leaving the abortion clinic across the street after her consultation. Natasha says,

"You lifted me up so much. You were my angels from heaven."

"After the ultrasound, I just had a breakthrough. I decided to keep my baby! God led me to Women's Care Center." After making the choice for life, Natasha participated in parenting classes throughout her pregnancy.

She says, "You were there for me all along the way." Natasha wants you to know how grateful she is to you for helping her choose life for her baby.
